MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Colby

Herewith another draft - Howard Osborn has seen it.

Sufficient copies are attached to cover addressees and distribution to D/NIPE, GC, IG, LC, D/ONE, PPB and Cable Secretary.

We kept the security level at CONFIDENTIAL but raising it to SECRET might be a point to be covered when you talk this over with the Deputies.

STAT returned to me the unsigned memo about Classified bulletin boards. He said that the Ex Dir - Compt has decided that it would not be appropriate to post some issues of "FYI - allegations and answers" on a bulletin board. Hence, he is not so keen about this suggestion.

Ben suggested that this might become a part of the DD/S proposal for expanding the Employee Bulletin Concept.

In any event, we should hold this for later development.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence
Deputy Director for Plans
Deputy Director for Science and Technology
Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Classified Bulletin Boards

1. As an additional step toward improving communications of official matters to our employees the use of classified bulletin boards in the Headquarters area is approved. Material such as Employee Bulletins, pertinent regulation changes, etc., appropriate for all employee attention could be posted on these boards.

2. The placement and control of bulletin boards will be governed by the following:

a. Material posted will be classified no higher than CONFIDENTIAL.

b. Office Directors and equivalent officials will approve in advance each item to be posted. Reasonable discretion will be exercised regarding the sensitivity of material used.

c. Bulletin boards will be placed so that they are subject to visual control by designated individuals within each component concerned. Visitor access to posted materials will be appropriately limited.

CONFIDENTIAL

STAT

Mr. Colby:

Shouldn't this also be addressed to the Heads of Independent Offices -- General Counsel, IG, D/ONE and Legislative Counsel? Assume they'd each have a bulletin board.

What about O/DCI components? Will there be one board somewhere? That really wouldn't be too accessible to such scattered groups as Cable Sec, OPPB, NIPE, Historical Staff. But, to put boards in each would go below the Office/Division level?????

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence
Deputy Director for Plans
Deputy Director for Science & Technology
Deputy Director for Support

1. As an additional step toward improving communication of official decisions, policies, etc., to our employees, the Director of Security has approved the establishment in each Office/Division ^{at Headquarters} of a classified bulletin board. This board would be in a place in the Office/Division area which would be accessible to its employees generally and informally. The bulletin board would be used for the posting of material desired to be brought to the attention of all Office/Division employees; for example, Employee Bulletins, changes in regulations, etc. Material ^{could} ~~can~~ be marked for such posting by senior officers or ~~the~~ ^{the} could be posted on decision and responsibility of the ~~the~~ ^{Division} Chief of the Office concerned. The Director of Security's approval is based upon the fact that access to the ^{headquarters} building is restricted to badge holders who have Security clearances and on the reasonable assumption that all our employees will take reasonable steps to steer visitors and others having no right to such material away from the boards in question.

2. The following restrictions will govern such ~~bullet~~ bulletin boards:

CONFIDENTIAL

- a. No material higher than Confidential will be posted on them.
- b. The boards will be in a movable form so that they can be or otherwise secured placed in a vault at the end of the working day and replaced at the beginning of the next day.
- c. ~~The boards will be in a location where there is some reasonable degree of visibility to the employees of the Office/Division~~
- d. ~~The boards will be in a location where a reasonable degree of surveillance can be maintained of them by appointed members of the office~~ (e.g., a nearby secretary with an open door, instructed to keep a general eye on the boards).

e. The Chief of the Office/Division will be responsible for approval of the material posted on the board and will be expected to exercise reasonable judgment as to the sensitivity of any material so posted.
